About me

My name is Michal and I have been learning coding skills by myself.
I do enjoy programming in VS Code, especially HTML|CSS and JavaScript.
In 2021, I made a big choice and decided to change my career path to become a web developer. I realized that this is something I would love to do, so I am passionate and interested in working as a front-end web developer.
Since that time, I have kept improving my coding skills every day and I have motivation to learn new things and make use of my experience.
Also, I created my own portfolio, and I am working on some projects.
This is a great opportunity to change my life and do something I really love.
